

Name _____ Date _____

Replace the Conjunction

Read the pairs of sentences below. Notice that the second sentence in each pair is a revised version of the first. For this second sentence in each pair, insert a new conjunction — such as after, before, when, while, until, and since — that preserves the meaning of the sentence.

andbut*so*or

1.	The road was closed, so we took a different route. the road was closed, we took a different route.
2.	The sun set, and the temperature dropped. the sun set, the temperature dropped.
3.	We will finish our homework, so we can go outside. we finish our homework, we can go outside.
4.	The task was difficult, but he completed it. the task was difficult, he completed it.